

Want A Quick Bite At A Swanky Celeb Joint? Try NYC's R-Lounge!

1 of 3

R Lounge at Times Square.

Have you ever been without a reservation on a Friday night but want to go somewhere fun and chill to go? We've got the place for you!

I've been searching for a low-key lounge in Manhattan ever since I moved to the Big Apple three years ago. One usually has to go to Soho or somewhere else downtown to find a hot spot to grab a speciality cocktail under dim lighting — but not anymore! R-Lounge, inside the Renaissance Hotel in Times Square, is the perfect place to go in Midtown for tasty bites and a delicious drink! But what makes this venue unique is the special menu created by the famous Bromberg Bros. — Eric and Bruce! In case you didn't know, they're responsible for creating the Blue Ribbon Restaurants in NYC, known for their sushi and unbelievable seafood. So if you're in the mood for some southern delights try their BBQ Pork Sliders — to die for! But if you and your date are wanting something fishy, try the mini lobster rolls — yum!

The menu has everything from Spinach Artichoke dip to their original Manchego & honey toast!

R-Lounge gets HollywoodLife.com's stamp of approval and it's a definite must-eat spot!
